

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

As we enter into the third trimester, it's so important to continue to encourage students to stay motivated and work hard. We want all students to finish out the school on a positive note!

I'm often asked by parents, "What can I do at home to help my child be successful at school?" My answer is always the same; read with your child daily, check your child's planner, and most importantly, make school attendance a top priority.

Attending school regularly helps children feel better about school—and themselves. Your student can start building this habit in preschool so they learn right away that going to school on time, every day is important. Consistent attendance will help children do well in high school, college, and at work.

DID YOU KNOW?

- Starting in kindergarten, too many absences (excused and unexcused) can cause children to fall behind in school.
- Missing 10 percent (about 2 days per month) increases the chance that students will not read or master math at the same level as their peers.
- Students can still fall behind if they miss just a day or two days every few weeks.
- Being late to school or leaving early may lead to poor attendance habits.
- Absences can affect the whole classroom if the teacher has to slow down learning to help children catch up.
- By 6th grade, absenteeism is one of three signs that a student may drop out of high school.
- By being present at school, children learn valuable social skills and have the opportunity to develop meaningful relationships with other students and school staff.
- By 9th grade, regular and high attendance is a better predictor of graduation rates than 8th grade test scores.

Thank you for your continued support at home. You are the first and foremost teacher in your child's life. As partners in their educational experience, together we can make a profound difference in their academic achievement.

Please do not hesitate to call (549-4415) or email (barmelino@bveagles.com) if you have any questions or concerns.

Sincerely,
Ms. Bev Armelino
